PRICE ONE CENT.

LAWYER AUERBACH AND PROF. BEMIS BEGIN FIGHT FOR

6-POINT DROP
IN STOCK OF
AMALGAMATED

Amalgamated Copper Company shares fell six points in the stock market to-day. Prices slumped all around the first ten minutes.

Even the opening of the market prices were hazy and uncertain, and but little confidence was shown in the market during the first two hours. Around noon a partial recovery was effected.

While the pressure was on, and it seemed to come from various quarters, Amalgamated finished at 14 1/2, as compared with 21 1/2 at the close yesterday. The low point today was only 10 per cent above the opening low 1 point touched on the bottom of the big drop last Thursday.

Many other leading Wall Street industrial and railroad issues had but little to show in the morning's trading, and the traders who had confidently believed that the worst of the panic had been witnessed last week were troubled by the fresh tides of stock that was known since the market today.

Large blocks of the United States Steel shares were tossed around, the common stock nearly 2 points to 8, while the preferred fell the same amount to 88, a decline of 4 points. Sugar was another industrial to sustain a heavy loss, the price yesterday 5 1/2 per cent, to 4 1/2.

Even standard railroad stocks were tossed around, Louisville & Nashville falling down over 2 per cent, and St. Paul falling nearly 2 1/2. The full story was accompanied by weakness of prices in the market, falling heavily since the first day in New York.

MRS. CHADWICK'S ASSURANCE TO NEWTON:
MYSTERYMAN WILL PAY

Unexpected Aid for Queen of Filibusters From Unknown
Satisfies Attorney.

Subpoena for Andrew Carnegie
Will Take Him to Cleveland to Testify.

By Boston American Special Writer.
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Assurance made by Mrs. Cassio L. Chadwick to George L. Ryan, New York attorney for Hearst Newspapers, that she will pay New York's $100,000 claim, furnished one of the day's sensations of the great money market.

Another is the serving of a subpoena on the steel king for his appearance before the Federal grand jury in Cleveland this week.

Mr. Ryan, in answer to a telegram from Mrs. Chadwick, called at the Tontine in company with Philip Carpenter of counsel for Mrs. Chadwick. They went at once to the call of the Queen of Filibusters and a lengthy conference was held.

At the conclusion of this conference, Mr. Ryan stated that he had received hope of a settlement. "If the money does not come from Mrs. Chadwick herself," he said, "it will come from the Federal Government."

"Some one," he said, "will come to the aid of the Queen of Filibusters."

No one can answer this question now. At that time Mrs. Chadwick was apparently studying this "some one" of mystery has offered all financial aid to a vast cause and to her.

Who is the "Some one?"

40,000 IN FRESH RIOT AT
ST. PETERSBURG TODAY

TWO KILLED AND 248 WOUNDED IN FIGHT AT RESERVIST ENTRAINMENT.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 12.—Riots in the streets of a reservation, the result of a demonstration that precipitated the riots at the Kazan Cathedral yesterday, found more serious expression today in the departure today from the station of thousands of reservists for the army of war.

A crowd of about 40,000 accompanied the troops in the railroad station and there began a disturbance. Another riot was quickly precipitated. The soldiers refused to load the railroad cars. The regular troops were called out and at the point of the bayonet drove the reservists from the train, which was at once started.

The house demonstration of the crowd continued, and the reservists attacked the police. Two men were killed and 248 wounded. Arrests were made by the hundreds.

REVOLUTION THREATENS.
All over the Czar's domain the anti-government feeling has reached such a height that it is leading to revolution.

This early discontent has been growing since the revolution of 1905. The Czar has been leading a life of luxury and the people have been suffering from poverty and starvation.

TRY TO KILL POLICE CHIEF.
Today an attempt was made to assassinate the police chief of St. Petersburg.

The attempt was made by a man named Kuznetsov, who shot at the police chief as he was walking through the streets.

The police chief was wounded in the leg and the man was arrested.

Great Experts Open for the People in Mayor Collins's and Boston
American's Fight for Cheaper Light for Boston.

The BOSTON AMERICAN'S share of the joint hearing on the petitions for eighty-cent gas in Boston began to-day before the Massachusetts Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners at the State House, when Attorney J. T. Auerbach, representing the BOSTON AMERICAN, made an able and forcible opening argument, and Professor Edward W. Bemis, the most famous expert in the country, began his testimony.

This is the second hearing on the joint petitions of Mayor Collins and 70,890 citizens of Boston, through the BOSTON AMERICAN. At the first one Corporation Counsel Babson, representing the Mayor, called as witnesses the financial heads of the Boston Gas Trust to identify reports and circulars in which large earnings of the gas companies were claimed. He then rested temporarily, and to-day was set for the opening of the BOSTON AMERICAN'S evidence.

$10,000 FIRE
IN PROVIDENCE,
A HARD FIGHT

Special to the Boston American.
PROVIDENCE, Dec. 12.—Fire in the business section of the city today did more than $10,000 damage to three stores and caused a great deal of excitement before the firemen succeeded in getting it under control.

The blaze, it is said, originated in the heating apparatus of the printing establishment of Fox & Saunders, on Weymouth street. The building is three stories high and contains three apartments.

The Fox & Saunders firm was placed at about $10,000 and that of Fox & Saunders, at about $2,000.

WASHINGTON LAUDS
PROGRESS OF NEGRO

The negro race has developed more rapidly in its progress of freedom than the white race in the last century, said Booker T. Washington at the South Congressional church.

20 WOMEN GO
OUT IN LYNN
SHOE STRIKE

LYNN, Dec. 12.—The old trouble between the Kahkadas of Lynn and the Boston Workers' Union came to its climax today, when about fifty girls, members of the former organization, struck the factory of Watson & Lyman.

The girls, it is said, originated in the heating apparatus of the printing establishment of Fox & Saunders, on Weymouth street. The building is three stories high and contains three apartments.

WASHINGTON LAUDS
PROGRESS OF NEGRO

The negro race has developed more rapidly in its progress of freedom than the white race in the last century, said Booker T. Washington at the South Congressional church.

A large number of people were gathered in the commissioners' room today, attracted by the probability that Professor Bemis, who has been engaged by the BOSTON AMERICAN to examine into the conditions and testify in the fight for the interests of the 70,000 owners of the BOSTON AMERICAN petition, would be a witness.

Professor Bemis was called to the stand, and in the first hour of his examination stated facts to the commissioners that demonstrated clearly the exorbitant prices charged by the trust.

MAKES INSTANT IMPRESSION.
Professor Bemis, when introduced as the expert, gave evidence to establish his status as a gas expert.

It was thought not that he had an education, but that he had an education.

THE PRISONER IS CHEERFUL

Nevertheless it is a fact that Mr. Kenley is seeking to indict the lawyer, and already the man's record is being investigated here by Secret Service men.

under consideration against her.

It is feared on the basis of authority that the woman has already received passage to Europe, and intends to flee the country at the moment she is free.

Andrew Carnegie's death any time within the next 12 months is considered a possibility, about $12,000,000 to the person or persons who held notes and securities falsely signed "Andrew Carnegie." Hence the question has arisen: Was any plot to kill him for everything to this end was planned in cold blood by three persons.

Alleging that the prosecuting officials do not believe that the half of the astute former plot has yet been told but that a search is being made for a third person, "Andrew Carnegie," it was said to have approached with a plan to have Mr. Carnegie's life insured for $1,000,000.

A LAWYER'S STORY.

This was learned from one of the

She told him that she was so strongly convinced with the iron lung, that he would not be able to do it. She said that she had offered also insisted on proof of this, so she sent for a man who came from "Chicago" and was a member of the board of directors of the largest companies in the country.

Mrs. Chadwick's conversation with the man was very interesting. He told her that after the lawyer said the agent had made a mistake, she was not to be made and that she was not to be made. Mrs. Chadwick had said for the agent and told her that she was not to be made and that the iron man was the insured without an person knowing it.

ATTACK OF NERVES.

Although efforts of continued to secure bail have so far ended in failure, Mrs. Chonwick told a keeper in the Tondis prison that she has great hopes of securing her husband to day and thereby obtaining her freedom. Upon what she bases her hope for release she did not state.

She slept well last night, and as a result arose at 7 o'clock to day very cheerful.

She heard the news of the release of Mrs. Chabreck while reading a newspaper last night and a severe attack of nervousness.

The attack, it is believed, resulted from the reading of an interview with her husband in Paris, in which he said that he had not even the suggestion of knowledge concerning the allegation that her business dealings aggregated millions.

DR. CHADWICK SAYS

NEXW YORK, Dec. 12.—A special edition says Dr. Lester S. Chodwick, husband of Mrs. Cassie L. Chodwick, was interviewed in a Paris hotel Sunday. The interview includes the following:

"Did you leave America because you knew the transatlantics charged against you?"

"No, I had not the slightest intimation that my wife had any such business connected with her."

"You, however, as a divorcee, are everywhere come as a divorcee?"

"Have you any idea why your wife named Andrew Carnegie's name?"

"As far as I know she does not know the famous Carnegie, and has never met him. But I believe she simply negotiated papers which she believed to be good."

NOTE WAS IN BANK
CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—Tom Reynolds, who had charge of Mrs. Chadwick's alleged securities, in a new statement says: "I saw the note for $500,000 signed 'Andrea Carnegie' when she brought the package of securities in the Wade Park building and I gave the note, but I did not see her husband, Dr. L. S. Chadwick, who came with her to the bank. He knew me as well as I what was in the package. It was he who asked for the attest. It was Mr."

"I made the affidavit and a copy for Mr. Chudwick, who said he wanted it in the event anything happened to Mrs. Chudwick while he was away in Europe. If she died, he said, then he would have something which would designate just what her securities were.

INVESTORS & SPECULATORS—WARNING

For six months, through my story "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine, I have been educating the people to the terrible condition existing to-day in America—the people are plundered of their savings by a few men through the workings of "the system."

After close study for six months I concluded that the people were awakening to the

I decided to make a test.
I advertised certain truths. That was all.
For three days Wall Street and "the system" were panic-stricken—paper values melted to the extent of hundreds of millions.
The laws of the land are strict about panic breeding by public statements.
If any of the terrible statements I have made were false, I would to-day be in prison or my body suspended to a lamp post.
I could not possibly have escaped.

What I have stated is truth—no one dares gainsay it. Wall Street and "the system" for the first time were compelled to come to the rescue and put in jeopardy their own money by buying stocks from the people at inflated prices. For the first time a break came when the manufacturers of stock held them. The people sold them.

To-day every scheme known to frenzied financiering is being worked to make the world believe last week's panic was the result of stock speculators, bears, "Standard Oil" and "the system."

Throughout this country and Europe is being spread the story that I was in league with "Standard Oil" and "the system," that they had sold out their stocks and got me to raid the market to shake out the public.

That another great rise is coming.

This is clever, smart, the only thing possible under the circumstances.

But it is a lie.
I ask you truthfully to watch the desperate efforts that are being made to get this lie to pass for truth.
"The system" must unload on the public, but above all else "the system" must convince the people that the awful damage of last week could not have been brought about merely by the people's own doings.
If the people are not convinced they will know their power and that they have in their own hands, to use at any time, the weapon which can end "the system" on its head.
There is no reason to show why the people cannot reverse the old process and always sell at the top to the "frenzied financiers" and buy from them at the bottom.

This is my warning:
I ask the people and Wall Street and "the system" to give it weight or their loss will be on their own heads.

Every owner of an active stock in which "the system" has any interest owes it to him-

The result must be terrible for Wall Street and "the system," and nothing can avert it. It matters not how much preparation is made, as it will come in a way not possible to guard against.

My first and only warning will come in the form of a public notice that certain named stocks should be sold the day my advertisement appears.

I now say to all, if you decide after reading this that I am only talking, well and good, but when it is too late, remember what I did say.

At the end of six months the words, the press and the pulpit are looking themselves

At the end of six months the people, the press and the pulp are tiring themselves into a fury over its revelations, and it is impossible to print magazines enough to meet the demand.

To-day policy holders are panic stricken and the big companies are falling behind millions a week.

When I said my story will affect Wall Street, Wall Street laughed; last week it yelled, cursed and begged.

When real work begins Wall Street and "the system" will look like a last year's straw hat in the swirls of Niagara.

AMALGAMATED

Last Tuesday morning I publicly said:
The men who conspired against me told me it was not worth half the price it was floated at.
If they told the truth it will go back to zero.
If they were lied, they will smash it back to 25 or they had better. Sell it!
All that day, Tuesday, holders could have sold at an average of 79.
Holders of over 200,000 shares did.
The following day all holders could have sold at an average of 74, 200,000 did.
The third day all holders could have sold at an average of 68, 200,000 did.
I saw Wall Street people get desperate and stopped the selling.
During these days I did not sell a share or do anything in the market to assist the decline, but did buy enormous amounts of stock.
I never knew how to "frenched firm prices" by being warned to make it appear this stock is going to sell much higher.
I received broadcast that I was working with bear raiders and "Standard Oil".
The following day I was asked to publish a statement that a prominent company President stated that he believed the stock was a lie.
I refused because I was broken were requested by another company to put in the lie to break the stock.
Immediately the rumors were sent broadcast that I had sided with "Standard Oil" and was building the stock.
I was then called to New York.
I went there and showed the man the statement and the high officer of the Amalgamated who got him to make it.
He said it shows the deperate position of the Amalgamated "insider."
I was then asked to publish a statement that I was not connected with the Amalgamated Company to publish the above statement or his signature.
I refused because I was broken were requested by another company to put in the lie to break the stock.

BOSTON, DEC. 12 1904.

COPPER RANGE

"Copper Range ought to be a very much better purchase than it was at the same price a few months ago on its advance. The newspaper advertisements of Lawson are bringing Copper Range into comparison with Amalgamated, and the person who is buying the stock of the latter is buying the stock of the former. The investment from the latter to the former. A share of Copper Range is intrinsically worth more than twice as much as a share of Amalgamated, and ultimately a share of Copper Range can be sold for enough, I believe, to buy two shares of Amalgamated, and this price on an investment based on the value of the stock of the latter to a large extent is a fair one. The great demonstrated, developing and prospective value of Copper Range is, therefore, recognized, and it seems certain that the stock must soon sell very much higher."

Copper Range will sell at 100, 125 and 200, because it is now worth the second figure and will be worth the last by 1901.

EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE

The edition has been increased to the possible limit for a 10-cent magazine, 700,000, but it will probably be sold out inside of 48 hours after publication day, as the demand is unprecedented.

My only interest in Everybody's Magazine is to get my story, "Frenzied Finance," before every man, woman and child by the time my second section—"The Crimes of Amalgamated"—begins.
